

COLONY CAPITAL MANAGEMENT
AN ATLANTIC INVESTMENT COMPANY

Colony Capital Management Leadership

T. Brad Courts, CFP®

Brad Courts, partner with Colony Capital Management, is also vice president and director of Atlantic Investment Company (AIC). He concentrates on growing the Colony Capital platform and researching long-term investments for AIC.

Born in Atlanta, Ga., Brad received his B.A. from the University of Mississippi. He began his career leasing and managing the historic Hurt Building in Atlanta, which was owned by the Courts family for 72 years and sold in 2006. In 2004, Brad played a key role in creating Pointer Capital, the registered investment adviser arm of AIC, and initiated the acquisition of Colony Capital in 2012. He holds the CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ designation and the Series 65 license and is a licensed real estate broker in Georgia. Brad serves on the board of the Fraser-Parker Foundation and the Atlanta chapter of the Entrepreneurs Organization. He also serves as treasurer for the Atlanta Ole Miss Alumni Association, the Courts Foundation and the Price Gilbert, Jr. Foundation.